

The Canberra ICU Course

12th–14th November 2010

Are you planning on sitting the College of Intensive Care Medicine Fellowship Examination within the next two years?

Then this course is ideal for you....

Preliminary Program :

- Lectures including
 - ⇒ exam technique
 - ⇒ psychological preparation for the fellowship exam
- Small group psychologist session
- Viva sessions including communication and interactive stations
- Hot case technique tutorial
- Hot cases across the two hospital campuses
- Invitation to a follow-up hot case practice day a month prior to clinical examination

The course will be held at The Canberra Hospital and Calvary Hospital in the ACT, 12-14th November 2010.

This course is suitable for those candidates beginning their preparation for the Fellowship Examination in Intensive Care Medicine.

The course is limited to 16 registrants to allow a small group atmosphere and maximize exposure to our course faculty and senior JFICM examiners.

The course will include formal lectures as well as opportunities for viva and clinical practice in tutorial and mock exam environments. A psychologist experienced in exam preparation will give both lectures and small group sessions.

The focus of this course will be on study and examination technique, with particular emphasis on physical examination skills. There will not be lectures on syllabus material.

Fee for the three day course is $600. This includes :

- small group psychologist session
- morning, afternoon tea and lunch each day
- course dinner one night
- transport between accommodation and venues
- a follow-up hot case day on successful completion of the written component of the fellowship examination
